

Eleonor Kristoffersson / Michael Lang /
Pasquale Pistone / Josef Schuch /
Claus Staringer / Alfred Storck (eds.)

Tax Secrecy and Tax Transparency

The Relevance of Confidentiality in Tax Law

Part 1

Table of Contents

Foreword.....	V
General Report.....	1
Eleonor Kristoffersson and Pasquale Pistone	1
1. Policy issues, historical development, general legal framework.....	1
1.1. General issues.....	1
1.2. Confidentiality and secrecy in tax matters	3
2. Collection of data.....	6
2.1. Filing tax returns and supply of tax-relevant information by the taxpayer or third parties	6
2.2. Tax auditing.....	9
2.3. Breaches of tax confidentiality by civil servants	11
3. Specific relationships	12
3.1. Information supplied by banks and financial intermediaries	12
3.2. Attorneys' and tax advisors' privilege	14
3.3. Other non-disclosure privileges	15
4. Sharing information domestically.....	15
4.1. Sharing tax information within national tax authorities	16
4.2. Sharing tax information with other national authorities	17
5. Sharing information internationally.....	18
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	24
6.1. Published decisions and other documents of the courts and the tax authorities	24
6.2. List of taxpayers	27
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	29
8. Consequences of infringements	31
9. Final remarks	32
Argentina	35
Diego N. Fraga and Axel A. Verstraeten.....	35
1. Overview.....	35
1.1. Policy issues	35
1.2. Historical development	36
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	38
2. Collection of data.....	42
3. Specific relationships.....	46
3.1. Banks	46

3.2. Lawyer/tax advisor.....	47
3.3. Other professional confidentialitys	48
4. Sharing information domestically.....	48
5. Sharing Information Internationally	49
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	58
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	59
8. Consequences of infringements	60
Australia.....	63
Kathrin Bain.....	63
1. Overview.....	63
1.1. Policy Issues.....	63
1.2. Historical development	64
1.3. General legal framework.....	66
2. Collection of data.....	67
3. Specific relationships.....	71
3.1. Banks.....	71
3.2. Lawyers.....	73
4. Sharing information domestically.....	77
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	77
4.2. With other authorities.....	78
5. Sharing information internationally.....	79
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	82
6.1. Published decisions and other documents of the courts and the tax administration	82
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	83
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in tax administration and tax courts	83
7. Access to taxpayer data by individuals.....	83
8. Consequences of infringements.....	85
Austria	95
Marion Stiastry.....	95
1. Overview.....	95
1.1. Policy issues and importance of tax secrecy.....	95
1.2. Historical development	95
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	97
1.3.1. Constitutional law	97
1.3.2. Ordinary law.....	100
2. Collection of data.....	101

2.1.	How is data collected?	101
2.2.	Penalties or other means of enforcement to achieve an efficient collection of data	102
2.3.	Relevant principles	102
3.	Specific relationships	103
3.1.	Specific relationships with professionals and banks	103
3.1.1.	Obligation to secrecy	104
3.1.2.	Use of information subject to tax secrecy by the tax administration	106
4.	Sharing Information Domestically	111
4.1.	Obligation to report	111
4.2.	Mutual assistance	111
5.	Sharing Information Internationally	114
5.1.	Article 26 OECD MC and TIEAs with regard to secrecy	114
5.2.	Directive 2011/16/EU	122
5.3.	Directive 2003/48/EC	123
5.4.	Rubik Agreements	124
6.	Access to Taxpayers' Data by the Public	125
6.1.	Decision of the tax administration and the Independent Fiscal Senate (Unabhängiger Finanzsenat, UFS)	125
6.2.	Decisions of the Austrian Administrative Court and the Constitutional Court	125
6.3.	Preliminary rulings	126
6.4.	Express Reply Services	127
7.	Access to Taxpayers' Data by Individuals	127
7.1.	Possible access to taxpayer's data by individuals	127
7.2.	Consequences of giving information subject to the tax law obligation of secrecy	129
7.3.	State aid	129
8.	Consequences of infringements	133
	Belgium	135
	Denis van Bortel and Robert Neyt	135
1.	Overview	135
1.1.	With respect to Privacy	135
1.2.	With respect to Tax Law	135
2.	Collection of Data	136
2.1.	Overview of information collected	136
2.1.1.	Tax Declarations	136

2.1.2. Tax Audits	137
2.1.3. Specific information obligations	140
3. Special Relationships	141
3.1. Banks	141
3.2. Lawyers – Tax Advisors	143
3.3. Other	145
4. Sharing information domestically	145
4.1. Within the tax authorities	145
4.1.1. Structure and organization of the FPSF	145
4.1.2. Sharing of information within the FPSF	146
4.2. With other authorities	148
4.2.1. General	148
4.2.2. Transfer of information by other authorities to the FPSF	149
4.2.3. Transfer of information by the FPSF to other authorities	150
4.2.4. Special considerations regarding the sharing of information with the Public Prosecutor’s Office	151
5. Sharing information internationally	153
5.1. Conventions on the avoidance of double taxation with respect to taxes on income and capital	153
5.1.1. General	153
5.1.2. Recent development in relation to bank secrecy	155
5.2. Tax Exchange Information Agreements	157
5.3. Mutual Convention on Assistance in Tax Matters	157
5.4. Mutual Assistance Directive	158
5.5. Savings Directive	160
5.6. Other	160
5.7. Concluding remarks	161
6. Access to taxpayer’s data by the public	162
6.1. Confidentiality of tax files – Professional secrecy of tax officials ..	162
6.2. Tax Rulings	162
6.3. Decisions of tax courts	163
6.4. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and the tax courts	164
7. Access to taxpayers’ data by individuals	164
8. Consequences of infringements	165
Brazil	169
Luís Eduardo Schoueri and Mateus Calicchio Barbosa	169
1. Secrecy and transparency: an overview of the Brazilian experience ..	169

1.1. Secrecy	169
1.1.1. Legal provisions on secrecy	172
1.1.2. Summary	180
1.2. Transparency	181
1.2.1. Legal provisions on transparency.....	184
2. Collection of data.....	186
2.1. Collection of data and the limits of tax inspection: general remarks	186
2.2. Legal provisions on the collection of data	187
3. Specific relationships.....	191
3.1. Banks.....	192
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	194
4. Sharing information domestically.....	197
5. Sharing information internationally.....	199
5.1. Brazilian treaty policy: trends	201
6. Published decisions and the access to taxpayer's data by the public ..	202
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals and tax secrecy duty	203
8. Consequences of infringements.....	205
Canada	209
Allison Christians.....	209
1. Overview.....	209
1.1. Policy Issues	209
1.2. Historical Development	209
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	212
2. Collection of Data.....	219
2.1. How is Data Collected	219
2.2. What Kind of Information?.....	222
2.3. Proportionality and Other Relevant Principles	224
3. Specific Relationships.....	227
3.1. Banks.....	227
3.2. Lawyers-Tax Advisors	228
3.3. Other Professional Confidentialities	229
4. Sharing Information Domestically	231
4.1. Within Tax Authorities	231
4.2. With Other Authorities.....	232
5. Sharing Information Internationally	233
6. Access to Taxpayers Data by the Public.....	235

6.1. Published Decisions and Other Documents from the Courts and the Tax Administration.....	235
6.2. List of Taxpayers.....	235
6.3. Protection of Journalist Sources by the Tax Authorities	236
7. Access to Taxpayers' Data by Individuals	236
8. Consequences of Infringements.....	237
Chile.....	241
Felipe Yañez V.	241
1. Overview.....	241
1.1. Policy issues	241
1.2. Historical development	244
1.3. General legal framework.....	250
2. Collection of data.....	254
2.1. How is data collected?	254
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	256
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	257
3. Specific relationships.....	258
3.1. Banks.....	258
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	260
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	262
4. Sharing information domestically.....	262
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	262
4.2. With other authorities.....	263
5. Sharing information internationally.....	263
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	264
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	264
6.2. Lists of taxpayers	265
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts	265
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	266
8. Consequences of infringements.....	266
China.....	273
Linghui Ren	273
1. Overview.....	273
1.1. Policy issues	273
1.2. Historical development	274
1.2.1. Development of methods for collecting tax information.....	274
1.2.2. Scope of tax transparency in China.....	276

1.3. General legal framework.....	277
2. Collection of data.....	279
2.1. How is data collected?	279
2.1.1. Means of data collection	279
2.1.2. Tools and means of enforcement	280
2.2. Proportionality.....	281
3. Specific relationships.....	282
3.1. Banks.....	282
3.1.1. Bank secrecy under the law.....	282
3.1.2. Mechanism for account information transmission to the tax authorities	283
3.1.3. Bank / taxpayer's right to appeal against an information request....	284
3.2. Lawyers	284
3.3. Certified Tax Agent (CTA).....	285
4. Sharing information domestically.....	286
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	286
4.1.1. Organization of the tax administration.....	286
4.1.2. Information transmission and sharing within the tax administration	288
4.2. With other authorities.....	289
5. Sharing information internationally.....	289
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	293
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	293
6.2. List of taxpayers	293
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	294
8. Consequences of infringements	294
Colombia	299
Esperanza Buitrago Díaz.....	299
1. Overview.....	299
1.1. Policy issues	299
1.2. Historical development	302
1.3. General legal framework.....	305
2. Collection of data.....	308
2.1. How is data collected?	308
2.2. What kind of additional information?	312
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	313
3. Specific relationships.....	315
3.1. Banks.....	315

3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	318
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality	319
4. Sharing information domestically.....	320
4.1. Within the Tax Administration	320
4.2. With other authorities.....	321
5. Sharing information internationally.....	323
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	326
6.1. Decisions by the Tax Administration and the courts	326
6.2. List of taxpayers	327
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the Tax Administration and tax courts.....	328
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	328
7.1. Tax data and Privacy Rights	328
7.2. Agreements with the Tax Administration	329
8. Consequences of infringements.....	330
Czech Republic.....	335
Lukáš Moravec and Danuše Nerudová.....	335
1. Overview.....	335
1.1. Policy issues	335
1.2. Historical development	336
1.3. General legal framework.....	338
2. Collection of data.....	339
2.1. How is data collected?	339
2.2. What kind of additional information?	342
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	342
3. Specific relationships.....	342
3.1. Banks.....	342
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	344
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	346
4. Sharing information domestically.....	347
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	347
4.2. With other authorities.....	348
5. Sharing information internationally.....	350
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	358
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	358
6.2. List of taxpayers	360
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts	361

7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	361
8. Consequences of infringements.....	363
Estonia.....	367
Erki Uustalu.....	367
1. Overview.....	367
2. Collection of data.....	369
2.1. How is tax collected?.....	369
2.2. Principle of proportionality.....	370
3. Specific relationships.....	371
3.1. Banks.....	371
3.2. Lawyers.....	373
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	374
4. Sharing information domestically.....	374
4.1. Within the tax authorities.....	374
4.2. Within other authorities.....	375
5. Sharing information internationally.....	376
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	377
6.1. Published decisions of the courts and the tax administration.....	377
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	379
6.3. Protection of journalist sources by the tax authorities.....	379
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	380
8. Consequences of infringements.....	382
Finland.....	387
Kristiina Äimä and Kenneth Hellsten.....	387
1. Overview.....	387
2. Collection of data.....	389
2.1. How is data collected?.....	389
2.2. What kind of information?.....	391
2.3. Legal principles.....	391
3. Specific relationships.....	392
3.1. Banks.....	392
3.2. Professional confidentiality.....	394
4. Sharing information domestically.....	395
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	395
4.2. With other authorities.....	396
5. Sharing information internationally.....	399
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	403
6.1. Decisions by the Tax Administration and the courts.....	403

6.2. List of taxpayers.....	404
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	406
8. Consequences of infringements.....	408
8.1. Consequences of infringements by the person liable for tax.....	408
8.2. Consequences of infringements by third persons.....	410
France.....	411
Thomas Dubut.....	411
1. Overview.....	411
2. Collection of data.....	412
2.1. Tools and other means of enforcement.....	413
2.2. Protection of the rights of the taxpayer during data collection.....	415
2.3. Confidentiality of the data collected.....	417
3. Specific relationships.....	418
3.1. Bank secrecy.....	418
3.2. Lawyers, tax advisors/accountants and notaries.....	419
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality and particularly medical professional secrecy.....	421
4. Sharing information domestically.....	423
5. Sharing information internationally.....	424
5.1. DTCs with an exchange of information clause.....	424
5.2. TIEAs.....	428
5.3. EU instruments.....	429
5.4. Council of Europe.....	429
5.5. Domestic rules and case law concerning international exchange of information.....	430
5.6. Tax information exchange in practice.....	433
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	434
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	436
8. Consequences of infringements.....	437
8.1. General principles of French case law.....	437
8.2. Application of these general principles to cases.....	439
Germany.....	443
Matthias Valta.....	443
1. Overview.....	443
1.1. Policy issues and constitutional prerequisites.....	443
1.2. Historical development.....	444
1.3. General legal framework.....	445
2. Collection of data.....	445

2.1.	How is data collected	445
2.1.1.	General framework.....	445
2.1.2.	Electronic collection and unique tax identification numbers.....	446
2.2.	What kind of information?	448
2.3.	Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	449
3.	Specific relationships.....	449
3.1.	Banks.....	449
3.2.	Lawyers/tax advisors.....	453
3.3.	Other types of professional confidentiality.....	454
4.	Sharing information domestically.....	455
4.1.	Within the tax administration.....	455
4.2.	With other authorities.....	456
5.	Sharing information internationally.....	457
5.1.	International and EU law	457
5.1.1.	Double Taxation Conventions.....	457
5.1.2.	Tax Information Exchange Agreements	460
5.1.3.	EU law.....	460
5.2.	Unilateral discretionary sharing	460
6.	Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	461
6.1.	Published decisions and other documents of the courts and the tax administration	461
6.2.	List of taxpayers	461
6.3.	Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts.....	462
7.	Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	463
7.1.	Competitor's complaints	463
7.2.	Freedom of information legislation.....	464
8.	Consequences of infringements	466
8.1.	Tax secrecy.....	466
8.1.1.	The case of A and B – breach of tax secrecy to the public.....	466
8.1.2.	The case of C and D – breach of tax secrecy to the police	467
8.2.	Bank secrecy	469
8.2.1.	Criminal law consequences of a breach.....	469
8.2.2.	Civil law consequences of a breach	471
8.2.3.	Admissibility of the acquired evidence.....	472
Greece.....		479
Katerina Pantazatou		479
1. Overview.....		479

1.1.	Historical Development	479
1.2.	General Legal Framework.....	480
2.	Collection of Data	486
2.1.	How is data collected?	486
2.2.	Efficient collection of taxes	487
2.3.	Preventative mechanisms	487
2.4.	Ex ante review.....	488
2.5.	Proportionality.....	489
3.	Specific Relationships.....	491
3.1.	Banks.....	491
3.2.	Lawyers/ Tax advisors	495
4.	Sharing information domestically.....	497
5.	Exchange of information internationally	498
6.	Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	501
6.1.	Publication on the internet of overdue debtors to the State	501
6.2.	Publication on the internet of politicians' assets.....	501
6.3.	Publication of courts' decisions	501
7.	Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	502
7.1.	The settlement/completion measure (“peraiosi”).....	502
7.2.	Access to data.....	503
7.3.	Publication on the internet of taxpayers' lists.....	504
8.	Consequences of infringements	506
	Hungary	511
	Tamás Fehér.....	511
1.	Overview.....	511
1.1.	Historical Development and Policy Issues.....	511
1.2.	General Legal Framework.....	513
2.	Collection of data.....	515
2.1.	How is data collected?	515
2.2.	What kind of information?.....	520
2.3.	Basic principles	522
3.	Specific Relationships.....	524
3.1.	Banks and other financial institutions.....	524
3.2.	Lawyers and tax advisors	526
3.3.	Other professional confidentiality	528
4.	Sharing information domestically.....	528
4.1.	Within tax authorities	528
4.2.	With other authorities.....	531

5. Sharing information internationally.....	533
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	538
6.1. Published decisions of the courts and the tax administration	538
6.2. List of taxpayers	540
6.3. Protection of journalist sources by the tax authorities	543
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	545
7.1. Agreements with taxpayers	545
7.2. Access to taxpayers' data by other interested parties	547
8. Consequences of infringements	548
Israel	555
Yinon Tzubery	555
1. Overview.....	555
1.1. Policy issues	555
1.2. Historical development	558
1.3. General legal framework.....	559
2. Collection of data.....	560
2.1. Collection of data from a taxpayer.....	560
2.2. Collection of data from a third party.....	563
3. Specific relationships.....	565
3.1. Banks.....	566
3.2. Lawyers	567
3.3. Accountants, tax advisers.....	568
3.4. Physicians, psychologists	568
3.5. Social workers	569
3.6. Religious leaders	569
3.7. Journalists.....	569
4. Sharing information domestically.....	570
4.1. Sharing information within the tax administration	570
4.2. Sharing information with other authorities	571
5. Sharing Information Internationally	573
5.1. Legal implementation of tax conventions in domestic law	573
5.2. Exchange of information in the tax conventions signed by the State of Israel	574
5.3. Additional information about the Israeli tax authority's practices in implementing exchange of information under a tax convention..	577
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	577
6.1. Decisions of the Tax Administration	577
6.2. Court decisions.....	579

6.3. Lists of taxpayers	580
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	581
8. Consequences of infringements.....	585
India.....	587
Sunil Gupta	587
1. Overview.....	587
1.1. Policy issues	587
1.2. Historical development	588
1.3. General legal framework.....	588
2. Collection of data.....	590
2.1. How is data collected?	590
2.2. What kind of additional information?	591
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	593
3. Specific relationships.....	593
3.1. Banks.....	593
3.2. Lawyer/tax advisor.....	595
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	596
4. Sharing information domestically.....	596
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	596
4.2. With other authorities.....	597
5. Sharing information internationally.....	597
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	602
6.1. Published decisions and other documents of the courts and the tax administration	602
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	603
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	604
8. Consequences of infringements	607
Italy.....	609
Francesca Vitale.....	609
1. Overview.....	609
1.1. General legal framework and policy issues	609
1.2. Historical development	610
1.3. Privacy law and tax data	612
2. Collection of data.....	613
2.1. How is data collected?	613
2.2. The "Anagrafe Tributaria"	615
2.2.1. History and content	615
2.2.2. Privacy issues	617

3. Specific relationships.....	618
3.1. Banks and other financial institutions.....	618
3.1.1. Reporting obligations.....	619
3.1.2. Bank audits and assessments.....	621
3.2. Lawyers, tax advisors and other professionals.....	622
3.3. The obligation to “inform” the taxpayer.....	625
4. Sharing information domestically.....	626
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	626
4.2. With other authorities.....	627
5. Sharing information internationally.....	627
6. Access to taxpayers’ data by the public.....	630
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	630
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	631
7. Access to taxpayers’ data by individuals.....	632
8. Consequences of infringements.....	634
Liechtenstein.....	639
Matthias Langer, and Martin Moosbrugger.....	639
1. Overview.....	639
2. Collection of data.....	640
2.1. How is data collected?.....	640
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	641
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	641
3. Specific relationships.....	642
3.1. Banks.....	642
3.2. Lawyers/ Fiduciaries.....	645
4. Sharing information domestically.....	647
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	647
4.2. With other authorities.....	648
5. Sharing information internationally.....	648
6. Access to taxpayers’ data by the public.....	651
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	651
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	652
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts.....	652
7. Access to taxpayers’ data by individuals.....	652
8. Consequences of infringements.....	653
Luxembourg.....	657
Lionel Noguera, Anne Selbert and Katharina Müller.....	657

1. Overview.....	657
1.1. Policy issues	658
1.1.1. General approach to data protection	658
1.1.2. Application to tax information	660
1.1.3. Transparency of tax information versus tax secrecy.....	661
1.1.4. Trends for the future?.....	662
1.2. Historical Development	662
1.2.1. Tax data collection	662
1.2.2. Tax secrecy development	663
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	664
1.3.1. Main principles.....	664
2. Collection of data.....	667
2.1. How is data collected – What kind of information?	667
2.2. Proportionality and other relevant principles	669
2.2.1. Legal basis.....	669
2.2.2. Consequences	669
2.2.3. Other principles or other general provisions limiting the tax authorities’ right to collect data.....	669
3. Specific Relationships.....	670
3.1. Banks	670
3.1.1. Transmission of a bank’s client information to the tax authorities..	670
3.1.2. Administrative assistance governed by agreements to prevent double taxation	673
3.1.3. Disclosing of information about a client’s affairs to the tax authorities by a bank.....	674
3.1.4. Overruled bank secrecy	675
3.1.5. Client information on information disclosed by the bank	677
3.1.6. Client recourse.....	677
3.1.7. Use of information acquired upon an exchange of information request.....	678
3.1.8. Rules on confidentiality	678
3.1.9. Waiver of bank secrecy	679
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	680
3.3. Other professional confidentiality	680
4. Sharing information domestically.....	681
4.1. Within the tax authorities	681
4.1.1. Coordination between the national tax authorities.....	681
4.2. With other authorities.....	682

5. Sharing information internationally.....	682
5.1. Exchange of information.....	683
5.1.1. Scope.....	683
5.1.2. Impact of the exchange of information.....	683
5.2. Recovery assistance.....	684
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	684
6.1. Published decisions of the courts and the tax administration.....	684
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	685
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	685
8. Consequences of infringements.....	685
Mexico.....	693
Manuel Tron and Elías Adam Bitar.....	693
1. Overview.....	693
1.1. Policy issues.....	693
1.2. Historical development.....	695
1.3. General legal framework.....	697
2. Collection of data.....	701
2.1. How is data collected?.....	701
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	706
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	706
3. Specific relationships.....	707
3.1. Banks.....	707
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	712
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	713
4. Sharing information domestically.....	714
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	714
4.2. With other authorities.....	715
5. Sharing information internationally.....	715
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	716
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	716
6.2. Lists of taxpayers.....	716
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts.....	717
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	717
8. Consequences of infringements.....	718
Netherlands.....	723
Arjo van Eijdsen, Kristy Jonas and Sanne Verhage.....	723
1. Overview.....	723

1.1. Policy issues	723
1.1.1. General approach.....	723
1.1.2. Tax information.....	724
1.1.3. Trends.....	725
1.2. Historical development	725
1.2.1. Introduction	725
1.2.2. Development of the method to levy taxes.....	726
1.2.3. Development of the obligation to provide information	727
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	728
1.3.1. Obligation to provide information	728
1.3.2. Restrictions to the obligation to provide information	728
2. Collection of data.....	729
2.1. General	729
2.2. Obligation to file a tax return	729
2.3. Information for the purpose of levying tax	730
2.3.1. Administrative obligation.....	730
2.3.2. Information for the purpose of the taxpayer's own taxation.....	731
2.3.3. Information for the purpose of the taxation of third parties.....	732
2.3.4. New information obligation as from 1 January 2012	732
2.4. Information for the purpose of collecting taxes	733
2.5. Legal protection.....	733
2.5.1. Legal protection with respect to information requests.....	733
2.5.2. Principles of proper administration.....	734
2.5.3. Human rights	736
2.6. Enforcement to achieve collection of information.....	737
3. Specific relationships.....	738
3.1. Banks.....	738
3.1.1. Providing information of their own accord.....	738
3.1.2. Providing information upon request.....	738
3.2. Lawyers / tax advisors and other professional confidentialities	740
4. Sharing information domestically.....	741
4.1. Organization of the Netherlands tax administration	741
4.2. Sharing information within the Netherlands tax administration.....	742
4.3. Sharing information with other authorities	743
5. Sharing information internationally.....	743
5.1. Introduction	743
5.2. Obligation to exchange of information	744
5.2.1. International information exchange regulations	744

5.2.2. European information exchange regulations.....	745
5.2.3. National information exchange regulations	746
5.3. Confidentiality obligation	747
5.4. Taxpayers' protection.....	747
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	748
6.1. Published decisions of the tax administration	748
6.2. Published decisions of the courts	749
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	751
7.1. Introduction	751
7.2. Agreements.....	751
7.3. The Netherlands ruling practice	752
7.4. Horizontal monitoring	753
8. Consequences of infringements	754
8.1. Introduction	754
8.2. Infringement of the obligation to provide information to the Netherlands tax administration	754
8.2.1. Shifting of the burden of proof.....	754
8.2.2. Tax penalties	755
8.2.3. Criminal prosecution.....	755
8.3. Infringements of the confidentiality obligation by the Netherlands tax administration	756
8.4. The use of information that is not obtained legally	756
8.5. Examples of the consequences of infringements	757
New Zealand.....	761
Shelley Griffiths.....	761
1. Overview.....	761
1.1. Policy issues	761
1.2. Historical development	765
1.3. General legal framework.....	766
2. Collection of data.....	768
3. Specific Relationships and Disclosure to the IRD.....	774
3.1. Banks.....	775
3.2. Lawyers/Tax advisors	776
4. Sharing Information Domestically	780
4.1. Within tax authorities.....	780
4.2. With other authorities.....	780
5. Sharing information internationally.....	780
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	783

7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	783
8. Consequences of Infringement	785
Panama.....	793
Klaus Bieberach Schriebl.....	793
1. Overview.....	793
1.1. Policy issues	793
1.2. Historical development	795
1.3. General legal framework.....	800
2. Collection of data.....	801
2.1. How is data collected?	801
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	804
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	805
3. Specific relationships.....	805
3.1. Banks.....	805
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	806
3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality.....	807
4. Sharing information domestically.....	808
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	808
4.2. With other authorities.....	809
5. Sharing information internationally.....	809
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	811
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	811
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	811
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts	812
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	813
8. Consequences of infringements	814
Poland.....	819
Hanna Filipczyk	819
1. Overview.....	819
1.1. Policy Issues.....	819
1.2. Historical Development	819
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	820
1.4. Tax Administration and Tax Proceedings.....	822
2. Collection of Data.....	822
2.1. How Is Data Collected	822
2.2. Proportionality.....	825
3. Specific Relationships.....	826

3.1. Banks.....	826
3.2. Lawyer/Tax Advisor	831
3.3. Other Professional Confidentialities and Restrictions	832
4. Sharing Information Domestically	833
4.1. Within Tax Authorities	833
4.2. With Other Authorities.....	833
5. Sharing Information Internationally	834
6. Access to Taxpayers Data by the Public.....	838
6.1. Published Decisions and Other Documents from the Courts and the Tax Administration.....	838
6.2. Access to Public Information – Aggregate Data.....	841
6.3. Exception to Tax Secrecy - Lists of Taxpayers Benefiting From Public Aid.....	841
6.4. Protection of Journalist Sources in the Tax Administration and Tax Courts	842
7. Access to Taxpayers Data by Individuals.....	843
7.1. Within Tax Proceedings – a Taxpayer vs. a Competitor	843
7.2. Outside Tax Proceedings – a Competitor vs. a Taxpayer.....	844
8. Consequence of Infringements	846
Portugal.....	851
António Carlos dos Santos and Clotilde Celorico Palma.....	851
1. Overview.....	851
1.1. Policy issues	851
1.2. Historical Developments.....	853
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	855
1.3.1. Constitutional and general legal framework on the collection and transmission of personal data	855
1.3.2. Specific legal framework of tax secrecy	857
2. Collection of data.....	859
2.1. How is data collected?	859
2.2. Additional information.....	860
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	860
3. Specific Relationships.....	862
3.1. Reasons for the limitation of protected secrecy	862
3.2. Banks.....	862
3.2.1. Bank secrecy	862
3.2.2. Restrictions on bank secrecy.....	864

3.2.3. The specific case of bank secrecy derogation by tax administrations.....	866
3.2.4. Some statistical data.....	867
3.3. Lawyers.....	868
3.4. Tax advisors and other professional confidentiality.....	869
3.5. Professional confidentiality and testimony in criminal proceedings.....	870
3.6. The case of abusive tax planning.....	870
4. Sharing information domestically.....	872
4.1. Within the tax authorities.....	872
4.2. With other authorities.....	872
4.2.1. With the National Commission for Data Protection.....	872
4.2.2. With the Public Prosecutor's Office.....	873
4.2.3. With the Judicial Police.....	873
4.2.4. With the Courts.....	873
5. Sharing information internationally.....	874
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	877
6.1. Published decisions and other documents from courts and tax administration.....	877
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	878
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	879
8. Consequences of infringements.....	880
Romania.....	887
Basarab Gogoneață.....	887
1. Overview.....	887
1.1. Historical development and policy issues.....	887
1.2. General legal framework.....	888
2. Collection of data.....	889
2.1. How is data collected?.....	889
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	891
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	893
3. Specific relationships.....	894
3.1. Banks.....	894
3.2. Lawyers' and other professionals' confidentiality.....	897
4. Sharing information domestically.....	900
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	900
4.2. With other authorities.....	900
5. Sharing information internationally.....	902

6.	Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	905
6.1.	Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	905
6.2.	Lists of taxpayers	907
6.3.	Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts	909
7.	Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	909
8.	Consequences of infringements	912
Russia.....		919
Danil V. Vinnitskiy		919
1.	Overview.....	919
2.	Collection of data.....	921
3.	Special relationships	924
4.	Sharing information domestically.....	926
5.	Sharing information internationally.....	927
6.	Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	933
7.	Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	934
8.	Consequences of infringements	935
Serbia.....		939
Gordana Ilić-Popov and Svetislav V. Kostić.....		939
1.	Overview.....	939
1.1.	Policy Issues	939
1.2.	Historical Development and General Legal Framework	942
2.	Collection of Data	945
2.1.	How is Data Collected?.....	945
2.2.	What Kind of Additional Information?.....	948
2.3.	Proportionality and Other Relevant Principles	949
3.	Specific Relationships.....	950
3.1.	Banks	950
3.2.	Lawyers/Tax Advisors and Other Types of Professional Confidentiality	952
4.	Sharing Information Domestically	955
5.	Sharing Information Internationally	956
6.	Access to Taxpayers' Data by the Public	961
6.1.	Decisions by the Tax Administration and the Courts	961
6.2.	Lists of Taxpayers	962
6.3.	Protection of Journalist Sources in the Tax Administration and Tax Courts	962
7.	Access to Taxpayers' Data by Individuals	963

8. Consequences of Infringements.....	964
Slovenia	967
Lidija Hauptman and Sabina Taškar Beloglavec.....	967
1. Overview.....	967
1.1. General Legal Framework.....	967
2. Collection of data.....	968
3. Specific Relationships.....	971
3.1. Banks.....	971
3.2. Lawyer/tax advisor.....	979
3.3. Other professional confidentialitys	983
4. Sharing information domestically.....	985
4.1. Within the tax authorities	985
4.2. With other authorities.....	988
5. Sharing information internationally.....	991
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	993
6.1. Published decisions of the courts and the tax administration	994
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	994
6.3. Protection of journalist sources by the tax authorities	994
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	995
8. Consequences of infringements	996
South Korea	1001
Hyejung Byun	1001
1. Overview.....	1001
1.1. Introduction	1001
1.1.1. Overview of the Korean Legal and Tax Systems	1001
1.2. Historical Development	1002
1.2.1. Historical Development: Public Information Disclosure.....	1002
1.2.2. Historical Development: Collecting Tax Data.....	1004
1.3. General Legal Frame: Tax Secrecy and Tax Transparency.....	1004
1.3.1. Legal Frame: Tax Secrecy	1005
1.3.2. Legal Frame: Tax Transparency	1006
1.4. Balance between Tax Secrecy and Tax Transparency.....	1007
2. Collection of Data.....	1009
2.1. How is data collected?	1009
2.1.1. Collecting Tax Data: General.....	1009
2.1.2. Information Technology System.....	1011
2.2. What kind of additional information?	1013
2.3. Proportionality and Other Relevant Principles	1014

2.3.1. Principle of Proportionality in Korea	1014
2.3.2. Proportionality on Collecting Tax Data	1014
3. Specific relationships	1015
3.1. Banks	1015
3.1.1. Access to Bank Information: Domestically	1015
3.1.2. Access to Bank Information: Internationally	1015
3.2. Lawyer/Tax Advisor	1015
4. Sharing information domestically.....	1016
4.1. Within the Tax Authorities.....	1016
4.2. With Other Authorities.....	1017
4.2.1. From Tax Authorities to Other Authorities.....	1017
4.2.2. From Other Authorities to Tax Authorities.....	1018
5. Sharing information internationally.....	1019
5.1. Double Tax Conventions.....	1019
5.2. Other International Agreements	1020
5.3. Domestic Rules	1020
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	1021
6.1. Decisions by the Tax Administration and the Courts	1021
6.1.1. Decisions by the Tax Administration.....	1022
6.1.2. Decisions by Courts	1022
6.2. List of Taxpayers.....	1023
6.3. Protection of Journalist Sources in the Tax Administration and Tax Courts	1023
6.4. Election Candidates.....	1024
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	1024
8. Consequences of infringements	1024
Spain	1027
Fernando Serrano Antón.....	1027
1. Overview.....	1027
1.1. Policy issues	1027
1.2. Historical development	1031
1.3. General legal framework.....	1033
2. Collection of data.....	1036
2.1. How is data collected?	1036
2.2. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	1041
3. Specific relationships.....	1044
3.1. Banks	1044
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	1051

3.3. Other types of professional confidentiality	1056
4. Sharing information domestically.....	1057
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	1057
4.2. With other authorities.....	1059
5. Sharing information internationally.....	1060
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	1068
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	1068
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	1070
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts.....	1071
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	1072
8. Consequences of infringements.....	1074
Sweden.....	1079
Eleonor Kristoffersson, Annina H. Persson, Joakim Nergelius, Filippo Valguarnera, Anna-Maria Hambre and Ylva Larsson	1079
1. Overview.....	1079
1.1. The Swedish Tax Return.....	1079
1.2. Policy Issues and General Legal Framework.....	1080
2. Collection of Data.....	1085
3. Specific relationships.....	1087
3.1. Banks.....	1087
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors and others.....	1092
4. Sharing information domestically.....	1094
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	1094
4.2. With Other Authorities.....	1094
4.3. Duty to provide information between authorities/agencies	1095
4.4. Confidentiality between authorities	1095
4.5. The general clause.....	1095
4.6. Necessary reporting.....	1096
5. Sharing information internationally.....	1096
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public.....	1099
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	1100
8. Consequences of infringements.....	1101
Switzerland.....	1111
Michael Beusch.....	1111
1. Overview.....	1111
2. Collection of data.....	1113
3. Specific Relationships.....	1117

3.1. Bank.....	1117
3.2. Lawyers/Fiduciaries	1119
4. Sharing information domestically.....	1119
5. Sharing information internationally.....	1121
6. Access to taxpayers' data by the public	1126
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	1128
8. Consequences of infringements	1129
Turkey.....	1135
Emrah Ferhatoglu.....	1135
1. Overview.....	1135
1.1. General Approach to Data Protection in Turkey	1135
1.2. Tax Secrecy in Turkish Law	1137
1.3. General Legal Framework.....	1137
1.3.1. Persons Covered (officials).....	1138
1.3.2. Persons Covered (taxpayers).....	1139
1.3.3. Information Covered	1139
1.4. General Legal Framework of Tax Transparency	1139
1.5. The Balance between Tax Secrecy and Tax Transparency.....	1141
2. Collection of Data.....	1142
2.1. Self-Assessment System	1142
2.2. Methods of Collecting Data other than Self-assessment System... ..	1143
2.2.1. Obligation to Give Information on Request.....	1144
2.2.2. Continuous Provision of Information.....	1145
2.2.3. Information Database	1146
2.3. The Principle of Proportionality in Collecting Information	1146
3. Specific Relationships.....	1147
3.1. Banks.....	1147
3.1.1. Bank Secrecy.....	1147
3.1.2. The Obligation of Banks to Give Information in Taxation Matters	1149
3.2. Lawyers	1150
4. Sharing Information Domestically	1151
4.1. Within the tax administration.....	1151
4.2. With other authorities.....	1151
5. Sharing Information Internationally	1152
6. Access to Taxpayers' Data by the Public	1153
6.1. Published Decisions from the Courts and Tax Administration	1153
6.2. Lists of Taxpayers	1154

7. Access to Taxpayers' Data by Individuals	1155
7.1. The Agreements between the Tax Administration and Taxpayers	1155
7.2. The Law on Right to Information	1156
8. Consequences of Infringements.....	1157
USA	1163
Joshua D. Blank	1163
1. Overview.....	1163
1.1. Policy Issues.....	1163
1.2. Historical development	1165
1.3. General legal framework.....	1169
2. Collection of Data	1170
2.1. How is data collected?	1170
2.2. What kind of additional information?.....	1172
2.3. Proportionality and other relevant principles.....	1172
3. Specific relationships.....	1172
3.1. Banks.....	1172
3.2. Lawyers/tax advisors.....	1174
4. Sharing Information Domestically	1175
5. Sharing Information Internationally	1175
6. Access to Data by the Public	1176
6.1. Decisions by the tax administration and the courts.....	1176
6.1.1. Tax Enforcement Successes That the Public Sees.....	1177
6.1.2. Tax Enforcement Weaknesses That the Public Does Not See.....	1182
6.1.3. Strategic Publicity and Tax Compliance.....	1185
6.2. List of taxpayers.....	1186
6.3. Protection of journalist sources in the tax administration and tax courts.....	1187
7. Access to taxpayers' data by individuals.....	1187
8. Consequences of Infringement	1188
List of Contributors	1193
Index	1209