

Applied International Corporate Finance

von

Prof. Dr. Dr. Dietmar Ernst, Prof. Dr. Dr. Joachim Häcker

2., komplett überarbeitete und erweiterte Auflage

Applied International Corporate Finance – Ernst / Häcker

schnell und portofrei erhältlich bei beck-shop.de DIE FACHBUCHHANDLUNG

Thematische Gliederung:

Finanzwirtschaft, Banken, Börse – Investition und Finanzierung – Corporate Finance, Banken und Kapitalmarkt

Verlag Franz Vahlen München 2011

Verlag Franz Vahlen im Internet:

www.vahlen.de

ISBN 978 3 8006 3751 5

beck-shop.de

Ernst/Häcker
Applied International Corporate Finance

beck-shop.de

beck-shop.de

Applied International Corporate Finance

von

Prof. Dr. Dr. Dietmar Ernst und
Prof. Dr. Dr. Joachim Häcker

2., komplett überarbeitete und erweiterte Auflage

Verlag Franz Vahlen München

beck-shop.de

VERLAG
VAHLEN
MÜNCHEN
www.vahlen.de

ISBN 978 3 8006 3751 5

© 2011 Verlag Franz Vahlen GmbH, Wilhelmstr. 9, 80801 München
Satz: ottomedien, Birkenweg 12, 64295 Darmstadt
Druck und Bindung: Beltz Bad Langensalza GmbH
Neustädter Str. 1–4, 99947 Bad Langensalza
Gedruckt auf säurefreiem, alterungsbeständigem Papier
(hergestellt aus chlorfrei gebleichtem Zellstoff)

Endorsements

“The authors, both seasoned professionals in the field of corporate finance, have created a theoretically well founded guide explaining the increasingly complex world of international corporate finance.”

Prof. Dr. Herbert Henzler, Chairman of the Advisory Board of Credit Suisse Germany and former European Chairman of McKinsey & Company

“This book points out wide variety of business opportunities for accountants in the corporate finance arena.”

Dr. Herbert Müller, Ernst & Young AG, CEO

“This book is an excellent guideline for core corporate finance activities such as M&A, IPO, going private, private equity and acquisition financing. Written by former investment bankers for corporate finance professionals.”

Prof. Dr. Frank Richter, University of Ulm and former Executive Director Goldman Sachs

“This book combines sound academic analysis with a practical, business-orientated approach. Interesting case studies help implementing the latest teaching requirements and will be of great use for lecturing at universities in Germany as well as abroad.”

Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Jochen Drukarczyk, University of Regensburg

“This book draws on business practice to depict realistic case studies that enable professionals to understand process-orientated valuation models – a core element of the Certified Financial Modeler® (CFM).”

Dr. Christian Ossig, Royal Bank of Scotland, Head FI & Public Sector Germany & Austria

“Häcker and Ernst created a milestone in corporate finance literature.”

Jens Diehlmann, IBM, Executive

“The book provides an excellent practical overview of the economics and the legal framework applicable to capital markets transactions in Germany, the UK and the US.”

Dr. Sophie Moeder, LL.M., Attorney-at-Law (New York), Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, Senior Associate

beck-shop.de

Preface

The Bologna process marked a paradigm shift in the German university environment. The German diploma system has been replaced by bachelor and master degrees. Most master programs are aimed at an international audience, which suggests that the courses are being lectured in English. In business administration, and especially in finance-oriented master classes, English will dominate as the main language at German universities in a few years. There are currently few international finance textbooks that are written in English but geared toward the German-speaking financial market. This book closes this gap by giving students and lecturers the necessary tool kit for adaptation to the Bologna process.

The authors' interdisciplinary approach scrutinizes issues in finance, mathematics and law with the latest international finance tools. The book "Applied International Corporate Finance" also covers rather young disciplines in Germany, for example going private and acquisition financing.

We are convinced that books on international finance should be practice-oriented and also help experts in the field to cope with this challenging and complex matter. Due to the fact that we are still active in the international finance arena, we see the necessity to demonstrate financial models based on case studies which impart a practical understanding of relevant international finance issues.

We hope that you will enjoy our book „Applied International Corporate Finance“ and appreciate the interdisciplinary philosophy that combines a sound academic framework with real-world business practices and international perspectives.

Joachim Häcker
Frankfurt, June 5, 2011

Dietmar Ernst
Frankfurt, June 5, 2011

beck-shop.de

Authors

Date of birth: April 17, 1968, in Ludwigsburg

Education: Eberhard Karls-University, Tübingen. Degree in International Economics

Doctoral studies: Economics at the Eberhard Karls-University, Tübingen (1996) and Natural Sciences at the University of Stuttgart (1999)

Professorship: Professor in Corporate Finance and Director of the master program "International Finance" at the European School of Finance (ESF) in Nürtingen Transaction experience: Through his work as a project leader in Mergers & Acquisitions at the Landesbank Baden-Württemberg and as an investment banker with Süd Private Equity, Mr. Ernst advised various companies in the consummation of the corporate finance process. Together with Joachim Häcker he carries out large-cap corporate finance transactions.

DICF: Mr. Ernst is Director of the German Institute of Corporate Finance (www.dicf.de), which offers the corporate finance-based "Certified Financial Modeler© (CFM) (www.certified-financial-modeler.com)

Date of birth: September 19, 1968, in Stuttgart

Education: Eberhard Karls-University, Tübingen. Degrees in Business and Law as well as participation in the MBA program of the Kenan-Flagler Business School (USA)

Doctoral studies: In the areas of Business (1995) and Law (1998) at the University of Tübingen

Professorship: Professor in International Finance at Munich University since 2010 and at the University of Louisville since 2004

Transaction experience: As Vice President of Rothschild in London and Frankfurt, Mr. Häcker led numerous corporate finance transactions. Mr. Häcker also brings experience from his time as an associate with Sal. Oppenheim and as an analyst with PricewaterhouseCoopers. Together with Dietmar Ernst he carries out large-cap Corporate Finance transactions.

DICF: Joachim Häcker is Director of the German Institute of Corporate Finance (www.dicf.de) which offers the Corporate Finance-based "Certified Financial Modeler© (CFM) (www.certified-financial-modeler.com)

beck-shop.de

Content

Endorsements	V
Preface	VII
Authors	IX

Part 1: Mergers & Acquisitions (M&A)

Chapter 1: Why Mergers&Acquisitions?

1.1 The Term “Mergers & Acquisitions”.....	1
1.1.1 Mergers	2
1.1.2 Acquisitions	6
1.1.3 M&A and business alliances	6
1.1.3.1 Forms of business alliances	6
1.1.3.2 M&A versus business alliances	9
1.2 Reasons for and success factors of M&A	10
1.3 M&A of listed companies	13
1.3.1 Challenges for listed companies	13
1.3.1.1 Increased public perception	13
1.3.1.2 Shareholder structure	14
1.3.1.3 The target company’s share price as an uncertainty factor	14
1.3.1.4 The bidder company’s share price as an uncertainty factor	15
1.3.2 Legal characteristics	16
1.3.2.1 The regulations of § 93 AktG	16
1.3.2.2 The regulations of § 15 WpÜG	16
1.3.2.3 The regulations of § 21 WpHG	16
1.3.3 Takeover regulations	16
1.3.3.1 Overview of the “Wertpapiererwerbs- und Übernahmegesetz” (WpÜG) (Security Purchase and Takeover Act)	17
1.3.3.2 The bid process according to the WpÜG	18
1.3.3.3 Squeeze out	20
1.4 The process of M&A	21

Chapter 2: Initial Phase (Phase 1)

2.1 Pitch	23
2.2 Choice of process.....	25
2.2.1 The discrete approach	25
2.2.2 Simultaneous bilateral negotiations	25
2.2.3 Controlled competitive auction	25
2.2.4 Full public auction.....	25
2.3 Candidate screening and selection	27
2.3.1 MBO or MBI	28

2.3.2	Financial investors	29
2.3.3	Strategic investors	30
2.4	Advisers	32
2.4.1	Investment banks	32
2.4.2	Accountants and tax advisers	33
2.4.3	Lawyers.....	34
2.4.4	Other advisers	34
2.5	Mandate letter.....	36
2.6	Confidentiality agreement	42
Chapter 3: Contacting Interested Parties (Phase 2)
3.1	Documentation	46
3.1.1	Anonymous short profile	46
3.1.2	Information memorandum	46
3.2	Non-binding offer	47
Chapter 4: Financial Aspects in an M&A Sales Process (Phase 3)
4.1	Due diligence	53
4.2	Valuation	53
4.3	Structuring	53
Chapter 5: Legal Aspects in an M&A Sales Process (Phase 4)
5.1	Negotiations	57
5.2	Binding offer	60
5.3	Purchase agreement and closing	60
5.3.1	Purchase agreement	60
5.3.2	Closing	62

Part 2: Private Equity

Chapter 1: What is Private Equity all about?
1.1	Definitions	65
1.2	Types of investment financing	70
1.2.1	Early stage financings (venture capital financings)	71
1.2.1.1	Seed financing	71
1.2.1.2	Start-up financing	71
1.2.1.3	First-stage financing	71
1.2.2	Later-stage financings (private equity financings)	72
1.2.2.1	Second-stage financing	72
1.2.2.2	Third-stage financing	73
1.2.2.3	Fourth-stage financing	73
1.3	Occasions for private equity financing	75
1.3.1	Expansion (development capital)	75
1.3.2	Bridge financing	75
1.3.3	Public-to-private (going private)	76

1.3.4	Succession planning and displacement of existing shareholders	76
1.3.5	Spin-off	77
1.3.6	Private placement	77
1.3.7	Turnaround	78
1.3.8	Platform strategy or buy and build strategy	78
1.4	Types of investments	80
1.4.1	Open investments	80
1.4.2	Indirect investments	81

Chapter 2: Who drives Private Equity?

2.1	Bidder groups for equity capital	83
2.1.1	Captive funds	83
2.1.2	Public funds	83
2.1.3	Independent funds	83
2.2	The role of banks in the private equity business	84
2.3	Investors in private equity capital	86
2.3.1	New funds raised according to capital sources	86
2.3.2	Geographical distribution in Germany	87
2.3.3	New funds raised according to financing phases	88
2.3.4	Sectoral distribution of investment	88

Chapter 3: How are Private Equity firms organized?

3.1	Organizational aspects	90
3.1.1	Structure of private equity companies	90
3.1.1.1	Separation of fund and management	90
3.1.1.2	Subsidiaries	91
3.1.2	Management, control and advisory organs	91
3.1.3	Inner organization	92
3.2	The investment contract	94
3.2.1	Basic types and significant parts of the contract	94
3.2.2	Examples of wordings for certain clauses	96
3.2.2.1	Options	96
3.2.2.2	Pre-emptive right, right of first refusal, duty to supply information on offer	96
3.2.2.3	Take-along rights of managers	97
3.2.2.4	Drag-along rights	98
3.2.2.5	Exit/Liquidation proceeds preference	98
3.2.2.6	Antidilution clause	99
3.2.2.7	Concentration of corporate activities	99
3.2.2.8	Prohibition of competition and solicitation for seller	99
3.2.2.9	Provisions regarding exit	100
3.2.2.10	List of transactions requiring consent	100
3.2.2.11	Reporting duties	101
3.2.3	Adoption of existing contracts, important side contracts and covenants	101
3.2.4	Combined investment contracts	102
3.2.5	Participation in advisory and control organs	103

3.3	Valuation of private equity investments	105
3.3.1	Measuring performance: the internal rate of return (IRR)	105
3.3.1.1	Derivation of the IRR	106
3.3.1.2	Calculating the IRR using standard spreadsheet software	107
3.3.1.3	Three levels of IRR advocated by EVCA	108
3.3.2	Valuation principles and methodologies	110
3.3.2.1	Valuation principles	110
3.3.2.2	Valuation methodologies	112

Chapter 4: How is Private Equity Business done?

4.1	The working approach of private equity companies	119
4.1.1	Organizational milestones	119
4.1.1.1	Recruiting	119
4.1.1.2	Fund raising	120
4.1.2	Project-oriented milestones	121
4.1.2.1	Deal-flow	121
4.1.2.2	Due diligence	122
4.1.2.3	Business plan	123
4.1.2.4	Investment negotiations	124
4.1.2.5	Investment support	125
4.1.2.6	Exit	126
4.2	Acquisition policy and risk management	132
4.2.1	Quality controls in the project examination area	132
4.2.2	Setting of competences and decision levels	133
4.2.3	Selection of projects according to the criteria of company size	133
4.2.4	Risk limitation through syndication	133
4.2.5	Risk limitation through specialization	134
4.3	Investment purchase abroad	136
4.4	EVCA governing principles	137
4.4.1	Governing principles	137
4.4.2	Examples	138
4.4.2.1	Initial considerations	138
4.4.2.1.1	Early stage planning	138
4.4.2.1.2	Investors and marketing	139
4.4.2.1.3	Structuring	139
4.4.2.2	Fundraising	139
4.4.2.2.1	Initiators	140
4.4.2.2.2	Target investors	140
4.4.2.2.3	Origin of funds	141
4.4.2.2.4	Investors	141
4.4.2.2.5	Structure of the offer: terms of investment	142
4.4.2.2.6	Structure of the documentation	143
4.4.2.2.7	Presentation to investors	144
4.4.2.2.8	Track records and forecasts	145
4.4.2.2.9	Time period for fundraising	146
4.4.2.3	Investing	146

4.4.2.3.1	Due diligence	146
4.4.2.3.2	Investment decision	147
4.4.2.3.3	Structuring investment	147
4.4.2.3.4	Possible means by which the fund may influence an investee business	148
4.4.2.3.5	Investment agreements and documents	149
4.4.2.3.6	Manager's consent to investee business actions	150
4.4.2.3.7	Cooperation with co-investors and syndicate partners	150
4.4.2.3.8	Co-investment and parallel investment by the manager and executives	151
4.4.2.3.9	Co-investment and parallel investments by fund investors and other third parties	151
4.4.2.3.10	Divestment planning	152
4.4.2.4	Management of an investment	152
4.4.2.4.1	Investment monitoring	152
4.4.2.4.2	Exercise of investor consents	153
4.4.2.4.3	Follow-on investments	153
4.4.2.4.4	Under-performing investments	154
4.4.2.5	Disposal of an investment	154
4.4.2.5.1	Implementation of divestment planning	155
4.4.2.5.2	Responsibility for divestment decision-making	155
4.4.2.5.3	Warranties and indemnities	155
4.4.2.5.4	Should cash always be taken on realization or can shares/earn-outs be accepted?	156
4.4.2.5.5	Sales to another fund managed by the same manager	156
4.4.2.5.6	Managing quoted investments	157
4.4.2.6	Distribution	158
4.4.2.6.1	Distribution provisions in constitution	158
4.4.2.6.2	Timing of distributions	158
4.4.2.7	Investor relations	159
4.4.2.7.1	Reporting obligations	159
4.4.2.7.2	Transparency	159
4.4.2.7.3	Investor relations	160
4.4.2.7.4	Investors' committee	160
4.4.2.8	Winding up of a fund	161
4.4.2.8.1	Liquidation	161
4.4.2.8.2	Fund documentation	161
4.4.2.9	Management of multiple funds	162
4.4.2.9.1	Conflicts of interest	162
4.4.2.9.2	Establishment of new funds	162
4.4.2.10	Manager's internal organization	163
4.4.2.10.1	Human resources	163
4.4.2.10.2	Incentivization	163
4.4.2.10.3	Financial resources	164
4.4.2.10.4	Procedures and organization	164
4.4.2.10.5	Segregation of fund assets	164
4.4.2.10.6	Internal reviews and controls	165

4.4.2.10.7 External assistance	165
4.4.2.11 List of questions addressed in 'Examples' section	166

Part 3: Acquisition Financing

Chapter 1: What makes acquisition financing special?

1.1 Definition and challenges	169
1.2 The challenges of acquisition financing	170
1.3 Acquisition financing vs. buy-out/buy-in financing	172
1.3.1 Management buy-out (MBO)	172
1.3.2 Management buy in (MBI)	173
1.3.3 Leveraged buy-out (LBO)	173

Chapter 2: Who drives acquisition financing?

2.1 Acquisition financing – parties involved and their various motives ..	175
2.1.1 Senior partners	175
2.1.2 Strategic investors	176
2.1.3 Financial investors (private equity investors)	176
2.1.4 Management	176
2.1.5 Financial institutions	177
2.1.6 Advisors	178
2.2 Main goals of debt capital investors	178
2.2.1 Low debt capital ratio	178
2.2.2 Collateral	179
2.2.3 Marketability – loan syndication	179
2.2.4 Return on debt	180
2.3 Main goals of equity capital investors	181
2.3.1 Return on equity	181
2.3.2 Limited liability	181
2.3.3 Contract flexibility	182
2.3.4 Minimum expenses	182

Chapter 3: How does acquisition financing work?

3.1 Functionality of leveraged buy-outs	183
3.2 Exploiting the leverage effect	184
3.3 Improvement of cash flows	185
3.3.1 Fixed assets and working capital optimization	185
3.3.2 Strategic reorientation of the enterprise	185
3.3.3 Efficient capital allocation	186
3.3.4 Know-how transfer by financial investors	186
3.3.5 Elimination of underperformance in the enterprise	186
3.3.6 Asset stripping	186
3.4 Improvement of company valuation	187
3.4.1 Increase purchase price multiple due to improved returns and profits	187

3.4.2	Increase purchase price multiple due to an optimized firm size	187
3.5	Integral parts of successful leveraged buy-outs	188
3.5.1	Attractive LBO market environment	188
3.5.2	LBO proficient company	188
3.5.3	Exit possibilities and increase in company value	189
3.5.4	Management	189
3.5.5	Track record and firm ethics of financial investor	190
3.5.6	Fair price	190
3.5.7	Fiscal optimization	192
3.5.8	Feasible and sustainable financing structure	192

Chapter 4: How to structure an acquisition

4.1	Acquisition financing – structuring the project under company law ..	196
4.1.1	Three-step takeover approach	196
4.1.2	Respective interests of equity capital investors	198
4.1.3	Respective interests of debt capital investors	198
4.1.4	Legal restrictions	198
4.2	Asset deal vs. share deal	199
4.3	Acquisition financing – structuring the financing tools	200

Chapter 5: How to determine the financial structure of an acquisition financing

5.1	Determination of the debt service ability	204
5.2	Acquisition financing – role of equity capital	207
5.2.1	Share capital	207
5.2.2	Shareholder loans	207
5.3	Acquisition financing – role of outside capital	209
5.3.1	Senior term debt	209
5.3.2	Working capital facilities	212
5.4	Mezzanine capital	215
5.4.1	Particular characteristics of mezzanine capital	215
5.4.2	Mezzanine capital in the context of acquisition financings	216
5.4.2.1	Mezzanine capital – bridging the gap	216
5.4.2.2	Mezzanine capital – payment structure and yield expectations	217
5.4.2.3	Mezzanine capital – contractual structuring	217
5.4.3	Different forms of mezzanine capital	219
5.4.3.1	Equity mezzanine instruments	220
5.4.3.2	Debt mezzanine instruments	221
5.5	Capital structure and key figures	225

Chapter 6: What kind of contracts are used in acquisition financing?

6.1	Credit agreement	228
6.1.1	Precedent conditions	229
6.1.2	Representations and warranties	229
6.1.3	Covenants	230

6.2	Collateral agreement	233
6.3	Consortium agreement	233
6.4	Intercreditor agreement	233
6.5	Purchase agreement	234

Chapter 7: How is acquisition financing done?

7.1	Pre-deal screening	236
7.1.1	Business plan	236
7.1.2	Due diligence	237
7.1.3	Financing case	239
7.1.4	Financing structure and term sheet	239
7.1.5	Commitment letter	240
7.1.6	Contract documentation	240
7.1.7	Syndication	240
7.1.8	Deal signing and closing	242
7.2	Post-deal monitoring	242

Part 4: Initial Public OfferingChapter 1: Why Initial Public Offering?

1.1	Definition and reasons for an IPO	245
1.2	Pros and cons	248
1.2.1	Benefits and opportunities	249
1.2.2	Drawbacks and continuing obligations	250
1.3	Pre-IPO strategy	253

Chapter 2: What is the roadmap for a successful IPO?

2.1	Phase one: planning and preparation	257
2.1.1	Checking the pre-requisites for going public	257
2.1.1.1	Stock corporation	257
2.1.1.2	Financial reporting	259
2.1.1.3	Business plan	260
2.1.2	Equity story	260
2.1.3	Issue concept	263
2.2	Phase two: structuring	265
2.2.1	Recruiting syndicate banks	265
2.2.1.1	Coordinators	265
2.2.1.2	Syndicate structure	267
2.2.1.3	Designations	269
2.2.1.4	Beauty contest and selection criteria	270
2.2.1.5	Agreements with coordinators	272
2.2.1.6	Underwriting commissions	273
2.2.2	IPO consultants	274
2.2.3	Legal advisers	275
2.2.4	Auditors and tax advisers	277

2.2.5	IR/PR agencies	277
2.2.6	Due diligence	278
2.2.7	Valuation	280
2.2.8	Prospectus	282
2.2.9	Corporate governance	285
2.3	Phase three: marketing: investor relations, pre-marketing, and road show	286
2.3.1	Investor relations	286
2.3.2	Pre-marketing	287
2.3.2.1	Analyst meetings	287
2.3.2.2	Research	287
2.3.3	Road show	290
2.4	Phase four: pricing, allocation and stabilisation	291
2.4.1	Pricing	291
2.4.1.1	Pricing methods	291
2.4.1.1.1	Fixed-price method	291
2.4.1.1.2	Bookbuilding	291
2.4.1.2	Pricing structure	292
2.4.1.3	Pricing mechanism	292
2.4.2	Allocation	295
2.4.2.1	Allocation to institutional investors	295
2.4.2.2	Allocation to retail investors	296
2.4.2.3	Employee equity compensation programs	297
2.4.2.4	Friends & family program	297
2.4.3	Stabilization	298
2.4.3.1	Greenshoe (over-allotment option)	298
2.4.3.2	Naked short	299
2.4.3.3	Naked long	299
2.5	Phase five: life as a public company	300
2.5.1	Ad-hoc disclosures	300
2.5.2	Insider information and compliance	301
2.5.3	Transparency for capital markets	302
2.5.4	Annual financial statements and quarterly reports	303
2.5.5	Analyst conferences and research	305
2.5.6	Corporation action timetable	305
4.5.7	Investor relations	306

Part 5: Going Private

Chapter 1: Why go private?

1.1	Definition of going private	309
1.2	Going private and going dark	310
1.2.1	Going dark	310
1.2.2	Similarities and differences between going private and going dark ...	312

1.3	Motives and success factors for going private	313
1.3.1	Reasons for going private	313
1.3.2	Benefits of going private	314
1.3.3	Risks of going private	315
1.4	Candidates for going private transactions	316
1.5	Recent transactions in the U.S., U.K. and Germany	317

Chapter 2: Going private in Germany

2.1	What is the legal framework of going private transactions in Germany?	322
2.2	How can delisting be done?	323
2.2.1	Ex officio delisting	323
2.2.2	Hot delisting	323
2.2.3	Cold delisting	324
2.2.3.1	Squeeze-out	324
2.2.3.2	Integration	326
2.2.3.3	Conversion, merger and corporate division	327
2.2.3.4	Liquidation and sale of all assets	328

Part 6: Due DiligenceChapter 1: Why Due Diligence?

1.1	Definition of the term due diligence	331
1.2	Motives for conducting a due diligence	332
1.3	Objectives of the due diligence process	333
1.3.1	Reducing the information asymmetry	333
1.3.2	Identifying and examining the synergy potential	333
1.3.3	Linking the strategic preparation with the integration period	334
1.3.4	Providing reps and warranties	334
1.4	Participants in the due diligence process	334
1.5	Information sources for conducting due diligence	335
1.5.1	Internal sources of information	335
1.5.1.1	The data room	335
1.5.1.2	Interviewing the management	335
1.5.1.3	Site visits	336
1.5.2	External sources of information	336

Chapter 2: What is a data room?

2.1	The data room	337
2.2	Data room checklist	339
2.2.1	Corporate organization	339
2.2.2	Employees	340
2.2.3	Litigation	340
2.2.4	Pensions	340

2.2.5	Taxation	340
2.2.6	Agreements	341
2.2.7	Insurances	341
2.2.8	Financial documents	341
2.2.9	Intellectual property	341
2.2.10	Property	341
2.2.11	Products/services/technology	342

Chapter 3: What is done in a due diligence?

3.1	The strategic audit	343
3.1.1	Assessing the target company's forecasting process	343
3.1.2	Steps for formulating a business plan	343
3.1.3	What happens with the business plan?	344
3.1.4	Challenging the business plan	344
3.2	The financial audit	349
3.2.1	Assessing internal controls	349
3.2.2	Assessing annual reports	349
3.3	The legal audit	353
3.3.1	The legal foundation	353
3.3.2	The legal risk factors	353
3.3.3	The internal legal structure	354
3.3.4	The external legal structure	354
3.4	Conducting a tax due diligence	355
3.4.1	The scope of the tax due diligence	355
3.4.2	Past periods that were not covered by tax audits	356

Part 7: An Overview of Corporate ValuationChapter 1: Why Valuation?

1.1	Valuation methods at a glance	359
1.2	Occasions and purposes of valuation	361
1.3	General framework	364
1.3.1	Valuation: art or science?	364
1.3.2	Value vs. price	364

Chapter 2: How to carry out a valuation

2.1	Valuation techniques	366
2.2	Methods of individual valuation	366
2.2.1	Net asset value based on reproduction values	367
2.2.2	Net asset value based on liquidation values	367
2.3	Multiple methods	369

Chapter 3: The DCF method

3.1	Overview of the various DCF approaches	372
3.1.1	The WACC approach	372
3.1.2	Adjusted present value (APV) approach	374
3.1.3	Equity approach (net approach)	375
3.2	Calculation of the cash flows and terminal value	377
3.2.1	Calculation of the operating free cash flows according to the WACC approach and the APV approach	377
3.2.2	Calculation of the flows to equity in the equity approach	380
3.2.3	Calculation of the terminal value	382
3.2.3.1	The two-phase model for the determination of the value of a company with infinite lifetime	382
3.2.3.2	Determination of the terminal value	383
3.2.3.3	Determination of the detail planning horizon (detail planning period)	387
3.3	Determination of the discount rate	389
3.3.1	Determination of the discount rate subject to the respective DCF method	389
3.3.2	Determination of the market value-weighted capital structure ...	391
3.3.2.1	Determination of the current capital structure	391
3.3.2.2	Target capital structure	393
3.3.3	Cost of equity	396
3.3.3.1	Determination of the interest rate of a risk-free investment	396
3.3.3.2	Risk premium	401
3.3.3.2.1	Systematization of risks	401
3.3.3.2.2	Determination of the risk premium with the help of capital market theory models	402
3.3.3.2.2.1	Market risk premium	403
3.3.3.2.2.2	Significance of the Beta factor	404
3.3.3.2.2.3	Structure of the Beta factor (dependence of the Beta factor on the leverage)	405
3.3.3.2.2.4	Determination of the Beta factor out of past values	407
3.3.3.2.2.5	Beta factors for non-publicly listed companies	410
3.3.3.2.2.6	Determination of Beta factors for conglomerates	414
3.3.3.2.2.7	Estimation of future Beta factors	415
3.3.3.2.2.8	Model assumptions of the CAPM	415
3.3.3.2.3	Agios in the calculation of the risk premium	416
3.3.3.2.3.1	Agios for the unsystematic risk	416
3.3.3.2.3.2	Mobility agio (liquidity agio, fungibility agio)	417
3.3.3.2.3.3	Agio for personal liability	417
3.3.3.2.3.4	Majority disagio (package agio)	417
3.3.4	Cost of debt	420
3.3.4.1	But where can the information on the risk premium which is currently valid in the market be obtained?	420
3.4	Calculation of the enterprise value	424
3.5	Period-specific WACC	430

Chapter 4: The trading multiples method

4.1	Basic principle and procedure	433
4.1.1	The procedure of multiples valuation	432
4.1.2	Creation of multiples	434
4.1.3	Calculation of the company value	435
4.2	Presentation of the different multiples	436
4.2.1	Equity value vs. entity value multiples	436
4.2.2	Trading vs. transaction multiples	438
4.2.3	Overview of the different multiples	439
4.2.4	Multiples based on balance sheet figures – price-book-value	440
4.2.5	Multiples based on profit & loss statement figures	442
4.2.5.1	Sales multiples	443
4.2.5.2	EV/EBITDA multiple	445
4.2.5.3	EV/EBITA multiple	446
4.2.5.4	EV/EBIT multiple	447
4.2.5.5	Price-earnings-ratio	448
4.2.6	Cash flow multiples	449
4.2.7	Non-financial multiples	450
4.2.8	Consideration of growth	451
4.3	Calculation of the multiples of the peer companies	453
4.3.1	Selection of the peer companies	453
4.3.2	Selection of the valuation period	457
4.3.3	Selection of the multiple	459
4.3.4	Collection and preparation of the information	460
4.3.4.1	Market value of the equity and enterprise value	460
4.3.4.2	Determination of the reference figures: annual report figures	461
4.3.4.3	Determination of the reference figures: estimations	461
4.3.5	Information preparation and multiples calculation based on the example of Beru AG	464
4.3.5.1	Market value of the equity	464
4.3.5.2	Enterprise value	464
4.3.5.3	Calculation of past-oriented multiples	464
4.3.5.3.1	Determination of the reference figures of the single multiples from the annual report figures	464
4.3.5.3.2	Calculation of the multiples	467
4.3.5.4	Calculation of future-oriented multiples	468
4.3.5.4.1	Collection of the estimations	468
4.3.5.4.2	Verification of the estimations	471
4.3.5.4.3	Interpolation in case of a business year deviating from the calendar year	472
4.3.5.4.4	Calculation of the multiples	474
4.3.6	Market value vs. book value for minority interests and non-fully consolidated participations	476
4.3.6.1	Consideration of minority interests in the example of Peugeot and Faurecia	477
4.3.6.2	Consideration of non-consolidated participations based on the example of Renault and Nissan	479

4.4	Multiples valuation for Automotive Supplier GmbH	481
4.4.1	Determination of the peer companies' multiples	481
4.4.2	Aggregation of the multiples	490
4.4.3	Calculation of the company value of Automotive Supplier GmbH ...	494

Chapter 5: The transaction multiples method

5.1	Valuation conception	498
5.2	Prevalence and application of the valuation method	498
5.3	Thoughts on the practical application of transaction multiples	499
5.3.1	Preferred multiples	499
5.3.2	Determination of relevant comparable transactions	501
5.3.2.1	Company-specific factors	501
5.3.2.2	Transaction-specific factors	501
5.3.3	Data collection and calculation	502
5.3.3.1	Calculation of the transaction multiples	502
5.3.3.2	Financial data of the valuation object	505
5.4	Sector-specific issues and regional differences	506
5.4.1	The relevance of the sector and the regional presence for transaction multiples	506
5.4.2	Reasons and implications	507
5.5	Takeover premiums	508
5.5.1	Significance of the takeover premium	508
5.2.2	Reasons for takeover premiums	510
5.2.2.1	Undervaluation of the target company	510
5.2.2.2	Compensation of synergy effects	511
5.2.2.3	Manager hybris	511
5.5.2.4	Control premium	511
5.2.2.5	Bidder competition vs. exclusive negotiations	512
5.6	Case study	513
5.7	Critique of the valuation methodology	514
	Index	517