

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-50593-2 - General Jurisprudence: Understanding Law from a Global Perspective William Twining Table of Contents More information

Table of Contents

	Pref	ace	page x
	Ack	nowledgements	XX
	List	of abbreviations	xxi
	Furt	her abbreviations	XXV
	Part	A	1
1	Jurisprudence, globalisation and the discipline of law: a new general
	juris	prudence	3
	1.1	Clean water	3
	1.2	Western traditions of academic law	5
	1.3	Jurisprudence	8
	1.4	The significance of 'globalisation'	13
	1.5	'General jurisprudence'	18
	1.6	Jurisprudence, legal philosophy, and empirical legal studies	21
	1.7	Legal positivism	25
2	Ana	ytical jurisprudence in a global context	32
	2.1	Introduction: conceptual questions	32
	2.2	Analytical jurisprudence	35
	2.3	Four case studies	45
	2.4	Continuities between conceptual analysis and empirical enquiries	54
	2.5	Conclusion	60
3	Мар	ping law: Families, civilisations, cultures and traditions	63
	3.1	Introduction	63
	3.2	Four responses to the question: 'What is law?'	64
	3.3	Mapping law	67
	3.4	Families, civilisations, cultures and traditions	76
4	Constructing conceptions of law: Beyond Hart, Tamanaha and Llewellyn
	4.1	Tamanaha on Hart	88
	4.2	Refining Llewellyn: the law-jobs theory	103
	4.3	Tamanaha and Llewellyn compared	106

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-50593-2 - General Jurisprudence: Understanding Law from a Global Perspective William Twining Table of Contents More information

viii

Contents

	4.4	'Mapping' legal phenomena from a global perspective: A flexible working conception of law	116
5	Norn	Normative jurisprudence, utilitarianism, and theories of justice
	5.1	Introduction	122
	5.2	The Western heritage	123
	5.3	Positivism, universalisability, universalism, and relativism	126
	5.4	Classical utilitarianism: Jeremy Bentham	133
	5.5	Peter Singer: a modern Benthamite	143
	5.6	Modified utilitarianism	149
	5.7	Theories of justice: Rawls and Pogge	153
6	Hum	an rights as moral, political and legal rights	173
	6.1	The only game in town? Human rights theory: five perspectives	173
	6.2	Human rights law and morality	178
	6.3	Human rights law as 'universal': moderate scepticism	183
	6.4	Human rights as moral rights: comprehensive	105
	6.5	and selective scepticism Comprehensive sceptics	185
	6.6	Selective criticism and the rhetoric of rights	186 199
7		_	199
7	and	ting the challenges to human rights: Griffin, Tasioulas	202
	7.1 7.2	Introduction: challenges and concessions	202 206
	7.2	James Griffin: a dualist substantive theory John Tasioulas: a pluralist substantive theory	209
	7.3	Discourse theories	217
8		rical dimensions of law and justice	225
0	-	•
	8.1 8.2	Introduction A note on terminology	225 226
	8.3	The historical context	230
	8.4	Berlin, 2007	237
	8.5	The implications of globalisation: social theory and the	_0,
		transnationalisation of empirical legal studies	242
	8.6	Comparative empirical legal studies	244
	8.7	Qualitative comparative legal studies	245
	8.8	Quantitative comparative legal studies	251
	8.9	An empirical science of law?	258
	8.10	Conclusion	262
	Part	В	267
9	Diffusion of law: A global perspective
	9.1	Mapping law: a naïve model of diffusion	269
	92	Some landmarks in the study of diffusion of law	273

ix

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-50593-2 - General Jurisprudence: Understanding Law from a Global Perspective William Twining Table of Contents More information

	Contents
	9.3 9.4 9.5	A global perspective: diffusion, levels of law, and interlegality Beyond the naïve model: some counter-assumptions Conclusion	27: 27: 29
10		nce law	29
	10.1	Sophie's problem	29
	10.2		29
	10.3	Meaning and referents of 'surface law'	31
	10.4	Some health warnings	31
	10.5	Conclusion	32
11	Is la	w important? Law and the Millennium Development Goals	32
	11.1	Introduction	32
	11.2	'Law and development': An historical excursus	32
	11.3	1 / 1 1
		five models	33
	11.4	1 ,	34
	11.5	1 8 7	35
	11.6 11.7		35 36
12		significance of non-state law	36
14
	12.1 12.2	Taking non-state law seriously Four concerns	36 36
13		an rights: Southern voices	37
כו
	13.1 13.2		37 37
	13.2	0 0	39
	13.4		40
		Upendra Baxi	42
	13.6		43
14	Conc	lusion	44
	Bibli	ography	45
	Inde		50
	The following text can be found online at www.cambridge.org/twining
15	Some basic concepts
16	Elusive isms: Instrumentalism, pluralism, scientism, realism
17	Law teaching as a vocation
	Appendices					