

CONTENTS

Preface IX

FIRST LECTURE

Engel's Law 3

1. Introduction, p. 3. 2. Engel's law and growth, pp. 4-6.
3. Engel's law as a general law of consumption, pp. 7-11.
4. The Gompertz curve and the law of transformation as generalizations of Engel's law, pp. 12-14. 5. Limits of the generalizations of Engel's law as explanations of take-off stages in growth processes, p. 15-20.

SECOND LECTURE

The Iron Law of Wages 21

1. The Lewis growth model, pp. 21-23. 2. An application to Western Europe, pp. 24-30. 3. The Lewis model and United States' growth, pp. 31-33. 4. Lewis model and "Europe's Postwar Growth", pp. 34-39. 5. The case when there is no exogenous source of growth, pp. 40-42.

THIRD LECTURE

Gresham's Law 43

1. Introduction, pp. 43-45. 2. Market instability for different monies, pp. 46-51. 3. Market instability and bank-note convertibility, pp. 52-54. 4. Market instability and two central-bank reserve currencies, pp. 55-59. 5. Real and financial assets: a generalized market instability problem, pp. 60-65.

FOURTH LECTURE

The Law of One Price 67

1. Introduction, pp. 67-68. 2. Markets and transport,
pp. 69-73. 3. Economic integration and factor-price equalization, pp. 74-76. 4. Economic integration and money and capital markets, pp. 77-78. 5. Economic integration and the elimination of intermediary marketing steps, pp. 79-81. 6. The role of arbitrage, pp. 82-84.

CONTENTS

 7. The problem of foreign direct investment, pp. 85-86.
 8. The optimum economic area, pp. 87-91. 9. Conclusions, p. 92.

DISCUSSION	93
Carlo De Cugis, pp. 95-96; Luigi Pasinetti, p. 96-100; Giacomo Becattini, pp. 100-104; Carlo Filippini, pp. 104-106; Bruno Jossa, pp. 106-110; Angelo Porta, pp. 110-113; Pietro Manes, pp. 113-114; Fabrizio Onida, pp. 114-115; Francesco Silva, pp. 115-116; Giovanni Bellone, pp. 116-117; Giuliano Mussati, pp. 117-118.
Comments by Charles P. Kindleberger	119
Biography of Charles P. Kindleberger	129
1. Biographical Note, pp. 131-139; 2. Bibliography, pp. 141-159.
References	161
Index	177